DEPARTMENT OF STATE
Counselor and Chairman
Policy Planning Council
Washington

October 24, 1962

TO: Mr. McGeorge Bundy
FROM: W. W. Rostow
SUBJECT: Report Number One of Planning Subcommittee.

1. As of this morning the planning exercise is inaugurated.

2. We suggest that the following decisions by the Executive Committee of the NSC may be urgent:

a. Press and diplomatic guidance on turning back of certain Soviet ships. It seems essential that no one throw his hat in the air at this point. It may be merely buying time to set up a more serious military confrontation; and, in any case, it leaves open the question of the capabilities still on the island.

b. The issue of taking out the missiles and installations already in Cuba increases in urgency. The Soviets may try to deflate the present crisis quickly and settle for what is in the island and what they can subsequently deliver by clandestine means. If we are going to act, we should consider acting very soon. Harry Rowen is in charge of work at the Pentagon on alternative methods. The Executive Committee may wish to review those alternative methods today.

c. If the ships do turn back, a prompt, quiet approach to Castro may be an urgent appropriate next step.
